Moisturized skin and enhanced feminine well-being

Description

Dosage

3 capsules per day with meals and a glass of water or as prescribed.

Discover the natural benefits of our Evening Primrose and Borage Oil, a perfect alliance for your skin and well-being.

This dietary supplement is carefully designed for those seeking a supplement to take care of their skin.

Our product contains a concentrate of evening primrose and borage oil, two plants known for their richness in essential fatty acids. Borage oil is used to support skin well-being, promoting its hydration and elasticity. It also contributes to female well-being, balancing the slight fluctuations of everyday life.

With a remarkable content of 27.5% in GLA, our oil stands out for its high concentration in gamma-linolenic acid. The cold-press method, used to extract this precious essence, fully offers you the natural phytoactives of the plant seeds. It's a delicate process that respects the purity and nutritional properties of the seeds, without the intervention of excessive heat or chemicals.

Technical Advantages: The Excellence of Evening Primrose and Borage Oil

Our Evening Primrose and Borage Oil stands out not only for its actions on skin health but also for its significant technical advantages, which guarantee superior efficacy and quality. Here is a summary of these advantages:

- Bioavailability refers to the ability of our body to absorb and utilize the nutrients we provide it. Thanks to our high concentration in GLA (27.5%), a rare essential fatty acid, our formula ensures that these precious nutrients are highly available for your body. This means that your body can more easily benefit from the nourishing and regenerative properties of our oils, thus promoting better skin health and female well-being.
- Purity and Organic Quality: Our evening primrose and borage oils are extracted by cold pressing, a traditional and gentle method that does not involve any chemical treatment. This technique preserves the full nutritional properties of the seeds, guaranteeing an oil of the highest purity and quality. Our oils meet the strictest standards in terms of sustainable and environmentally friendly production, offering you a product that is not only good for you but also for the planet.
- Efficient Cellular Assimilation: The addition of natural vitamin E to our formula plays a crucial role. It stabilizes the oil, extending its shelf life and stability. This synergy between vitamin E and the evening primrose and borage oils maximizes the benefits of our product.
