Prolystine is a complex of plant extracts based on saw palmetto, pumpkin seed, cherry stalk, goldenrod, bearberry and fireweed. This complex has been enriched with zinc.

Description

An important ingredient of Prostilyne is zinc.

Zinc is an essential mineral that fulfils many functions in the body. Zinc is, after all, as part of many enzymes, important in the production of testosterone and contributes in this way to the maintenance of normal testosterone levels in the blood. Consequently, zinc contributes to normal fertility and reproduction.

INSTRUCTIONS

Initial dose: 3x2 capsules daily before meals for the first three weeks. Maintenance dose: 3x1 capsule daily before meals. Prostilyne should always be taken with sufficient water.
